REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record fails to disclose the combination of the claimed apparatus for continuously folding a flat plate element along a fold line, the flat plate element having a first section (Fig. 1; first section 3) adjacent to and on one side of the fold line (2) and a second section (4) adjacent to and on the opposite side of the fold line, means for continuously moving the element (1) in a direction essentially parallel to the fold line (Fig. 2; via conveyor belt 11); a first impression device (5) and a second impression device (6); the first section of the element (3) contacts and slides along the first impression device (5) and the second section of the element (4) contacts and slides along the second impression device (6) and the second impression device folding the second section of the element about the fold line during the movement wherein the second impression device (6) during the folding creating a first force component that acts in a direction perpendicular to the plane of the second section of the element and a second force component extending in the plane of the second section of the element that acts in a direction towards the fold line to press the first section (3) of the element against the first impression device (Figs. 1A-1C).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
